

HIDDEN HILL NEWSLETTER

March 6, 2010

Yes, it's finally March and that was a blue sky up there. But maybe you still need that sudden surge of early spring color to become a true believer. Hidden Hill Nursery & Sculpture Garden located near Utica, Indiana just eight miles from downtown Louisville has the solution - no charge.

Next Saturday March 13th, Bob Hill will lead tours past great specimens of those truly early spring-blooming plants you may have read about in all the garden magazines but have never seen, touched or smelled.

They'll be the exotically beautiful and fragrant witchhazels, the bright yellow cornellian cherry dogwoods, the red-pink barks of the coral bark Japanese maples, the soft yellows of the corylopsis or "Winter Hazel", the last of the red-berried hollies.

On the perennial side they'll be the arums whose leaves are vivid green all winter, the lovely leucojum with their dangling white flowers, the happy sprawl of naturalized crocus in the woods, the great exfoliating barks of the paperbark maple and Seven Son tree.

By sheer co-incidence Hidden Hill has many of these now for sale and at 10% off on a very early bird special. Come wander our eight acres. Bring the kids. See and touch the early spring colors and fragrance you can bring to your yard in March. Sign up for our drawing for $50 in free plants.

The tours will be at 10 a.m., 1 p.m. and 3 p.m. or just wander yourselves. Hot tea and muffins provided. And don't sweat the weather; the colors are all the brighter on a gray day; that's the whole point.

AHHHHH, spring.

See hiddenhillnursery.com for map and please pass it on

Bob and Janet Hill & the Hidden Hill Gang

Arrange Your Group Tour Date

As always, Hidden Hill welcomes tour groups of garden clubs, social and fraternal organizations, church groups, Red Hat societies, close friends and bored spouses of visiting conventioners from Iowa. Owner Bob Hill will lead those tours, dispensing great garden wisdom and rambling garden nonsense in mostly equal parts. Call 812-282-0524 or contact Janet Hill at

Season: April through October

Hours:

Fridays 10 am– 6 pm

Saturdays 9 am-6 pm

Sundays 12 noon—5 pm

or by appointment

About Us

Hidden Hill Nursery & Sculpture Garden, a unique mini-arboretum, sculpture gallery and unusual plant nursery in Southern Indiana about 8 miles from Louisville.

We offer whimsy, fun, an outdoor model train, great benches and fountains, exotic trees and shrubs and lots of solitude in a rural setting. It's all free. Please search our site, check out our plants for sale and come join us.

Bob & Janet Hill

